

WOMAN RECLUSE
WITH $1641 IN BANK, MURDERED

Body of Miss Emma M. Dene, 55 Years Old, Found in Disordered Room at 1016 N. Eighteenth Street With Skull Crushed.

NEIGHBOR SAYS MAN
QUARRELED WITH HER
Story of Mrs. Estella Cooper,
Who Lived in Room Below, of Row Monday Over
Money Is Sole Clue.

The body of Miss Emma Dene, 55 years old and a recluse, murdered in her room at 1016 North Eighteenth street, was found Wednesday, lying on the bed. Neighbors had not seen the woman for five or six days. The skull was crushed and a man's silk handkerchief, tied about the head, held several pieces of cotton batting in place over the face and forehead.

Whether the cotton was used in an attempt to chloroform the woman, or was placed on her head after the fatal blow had been struck, the police could not determine. Nothing was found with which she might have been struck. The room was in disorder and bureau drawers had been pulled out and the contents scattered.

Mrs. Sarah King, the landlady, found the body when she went to collect the rent. Since Miss Dene moved into the house a year ago, she had not admitted Mrs. King or any of the neighbors to her room, or permitted anyone to look inside. The little milk and ice for her, and only herself and a white cat had ever been seen to enter the room.

But Mrs. Estella Cooper, who lived below her in the basement, said after the discovery of the body that she heard a man in Miss Dene's room, quarreling with her over money matters, last Thursday night.

Conversation About Money.
Mrs. Cooper's story was that she heard heavy steps and gruff tones in Miss Dene's room, and that she heard Miss Dene say, "Have you got enough money to last you?" The man replied, "I've got about $5."

"If you don't keep out of the saloons," Mrs. Cooper says the woman replied, "there will be something doing." The man replied, "This was the time I had to quit my job," and Miss Dene, according to her neighbor, then said, "Well, if I have to starve, you'll have to starve, too."

Mrs. Cooper said she heard no sound of a struggle, and that she did not see the man enter or leave the premises. Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. King and Mrs. Martha Henderson, who lives in the same house, went to the Carr Street Police Station to tell Capt. Schoppe the little they knew about Miss Dene.

Woman Had Two Bank Accounts.
More information than they could give came from the contents of the squalid little room. There were found two bank books, showing that Miss Dene had $380.55 on deposit with the City National Bank (now the City Trust & Safe) and $100 with the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. The books showed that the City National deposits were made two months in 1907, and that the Mississippi Valley account contained entries from February, 1908, to last August, with only a few small withdrawals in either account.

A number of cook books indicated she had been a cook, and letters and cards showed she had been employed by West End families. A letter of recommendation signed by Mrs. J. O. Shaw of 216 Marlborough street, was found. This is supposed to be a suburban address. The woman's trunk contained clean clothing of fairly good quality. There was also a pile of picture postcards, most of them unaddressed, showing scenes in St. Louis and elsewhere. The cards were such as are sold for 1 cent each in 10-cent stores.

Autopsy Necessary.
The body was removed to the morgue, where the handkerchief and cotton were removed. It was said an autopsy would be necessary to determine how far the condition of the head was due to blows, and how far it might be due to natural causes since death. There was an indentation over the right eye of the head.

The position of the body, as it was found on the bed, indicated a struggle, according to those who viewed it. The feet were touching the floor, and the arms were outstretched. Both doors to the room, one of them being the rear door of the house, were usually kept locked by the woman. The door into the hall was unlocked when Mrs. King entered, and it is believed the murderer departed by that way.

SUFFRAGETTES HAVE DAINTY
'CLASH' WITH ST. LOUIS COP

Soapbox Oratory Blocks Sidewalk; Policeman Stops It; Non-Militant Leader Apologizes for Breaking Law.

The un-militant suffragettes of St. Louis had their first "clash" with the police Wednesday afternoon at their newly established headquarters at 215 North Tenth street. In this connection the word clash is put in quotation marks advisedly.

It was the nicest little ladylike clash imaginable with no more shock of collision in it than there is when a powder puff dabs the end of a dainty pink nose.

Although the second of a series of street meetings was stopped by a policeman Tuesday when Miss Callie Thompson stood on a soap box and made a speech.

Miss Rombauer Mounts Soap Box.
The St. Louis Equal Suffrage League opened the Tenth street headquarters and inaugurated its daily non-hour open-air campaign Tuesday when Miss Callie Thompson stood on a soap box and made a speech.

Wednesday afternoon the second outdoor meeting was held. Miss Bertha Rombauer, one of the most enthusiastic St. Louis suffragists, mounted the soap box rostrum and made a neat little speech in which she said women were tired of letting men do their thinking and their voting for them.

Here Man's Speech Interrupted.
The second speaker on the program was Mrs. Isaac Gilberg, national organizer of the Journeymen Tailors' Union of America.

"So long as women are driven to support themselves by working, they should have the same opportunities as men," said Gilberg. He got no further. Policeman Charles Hughes, stationed at Tenth and Olive streets, stepped up to Gilberg and said:

"I'm sorry, but you will have to stop speaking or go inside the building. You are blocking the sidewalk in violation of an ordinance."

"Very well," said Gilberg, stepping down from the soap box. He went inside, followed by about half his audience.

"Policeman Hughes Explains."
Policeman Hughes explained to Mrs. Edith Barriger, president of the Equal Suffrage League, that he was acting in accordance with police regulations, which say that no public meeting may be held without a permit from the Mayor, and that under no circumstances must a sidewalk be blocked.

"I'm sure I didn't know that," said Mrs. Barriger. "We have no desire to break the law. I shall ask the Mayor for a permit for tomorrow's meeting."

Just to show that there was no ill feeling Policeman Hughes then signed the equal suffrage petition asking the Legislature to submit the suffrage question to a vote of the people.

Chief Young, when he learned of Hughes' action, said that Hughes was right. "No public meeting can be held without a permit from the Mayor, and even when such a permit has been granted the sidewalks or streets must not be blocked. We would not for the world do anything to offend the women who are working in the suffrage cause, but must see that the streets are kept clear."

DR. MAGOON, 70,
BREAKS HIS NECK
BY FALL IN HOME

One of St. Louis' Oldest Practicing Physicians Tumbles Down Stairs Going to Office.

SON HIS CHIEF SURGEON
Takes Father to Mullanphy Hospital and Puts Head in Cast; Condition Serious.

Dr. Ephraim Magoon, 70 years old, of 337 Lee avenue, is at Mullanphy Hospital with a broken neck as the result of a fall down a flight of stairs at his home last Thursday.

Dr. Magoon is one of the oldest practicing physicians of St. Louis and is the father of Dr. Frank L. Magoon, a former member of the Board of Education.

An X-ray examination has shown that one of the vertebrae in the neck was broken all the way through at the middle. This caused a partial paralysis, which indicates to the attending physicians that the broken bone is exerting pressure on the spinal cord. Though similar cases have been cured, it is feared that Dr. Magoon's age will be against him in his struggle for life.

While starting to go downstairs to his office on the first floor of his residence, Dr. Magoon stumbled over a piece of carpet at the head of the staircase and fell headlong. His wife heard the noise and ran to him. She found him lying at the foot of the stairs with his head doubled under his body.

Dr. Magoon after receiving emergency treatment was taken to the hospital, where he is attended by his son and by Dr. H. M. Pierce of 406 North Grand avenue.

Need Placed in Plaster Cast.
Dr. Magoon's neck has been placed in a plaster cast to keep it rigid, as the slightest movement of the broken bone might sever the spinal cord and cause instant death.

At Dr. Frank L. Magoon's office Wednesday it was said that reports from the hospital indicated that the elder Dr. Magoon's condition was extremely grave. It was said there were indications of paralysis in the cerebral cavity which aroused fears that the spinal cord had been injured.

The merchants' point of view!
Here follows further evidence of the great pulling power of the POST-DISPATCH compared with other St. Louis papers, as our home merchants who know all about the game, from experience, have found.
On Tuesday of this week these merchants bought
91 columns
of space in the POST-DISPATCH alone and only 90 columns
in the Globe-Democrat, Republic and Times, its three nearest competitors, ALL ADDED TOGETHER.
The fact that these merchants do this same thing day after day, week after week, and year after year is absolute, incontrovertible proof of the superiority of the POST-DISPATCH as an advertising medium in this field.

1000 SUFFRAGISTS
CALL ON CONGRESS
AT THE CAPITAL

Women Led by Dr. Anna H. Shaw Demand House Committee on Equal Suffrage.

SEVEN SUBMIT ARGUMENTS
Raker Urges Resolution and Kelly Asks That Final Action Be Taken in Public.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The suffrage convention was suspended today while delegates moved on the Capitol to urge a favorable report by the House Rules Committee on a resolution to create a standing committee on Woman Suffrage in the House.

The scene resembled a charge on a clouded, when more than 1000 women advanced in regimental formation in quick-step order and crowded the hearing room long before the committee arrived.

Dr. Shaw Leads Arguments.
Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, led in the presentation of arguments for a committee. She told the members it was not the purpose of the speakers to convert the Congressmen to suffrage, but to convince them that the suffrage movement was entitled to a House committee, equivalent to a similar one in the Senate.

Mrs. Ida Husted Harper declared the suffrage movement had grown to national proportions, justifying a House committee; that the movement had not received its just treatment and that justice required that the movement should come under the jurisdiction of the National Congress.

Final Vote in Public.
Helen Gardner, Miss Jane Addams, Mrs. Desha Breckinridge, Mrs. Mary Beard and Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt also pleaded for the committee. Representative Baker of California spoke for its resolution, which would provide for a Suffrage Committee of 13 members.

A resolution by Representative Kelly, Progressive of Kentucky, and that of the Rules Committee on women's proposal should be taken in public. Women of the anti-suffrage movement have been promised a hearing later.

MRS. PANKHURST'S ARREST
AT LANDING IS PLANNED
English Militants Will Defend Leader From Police When She Goes Ashore.

PLYMOUTH, England, Dec. 3.—Preparations are underfoot to have been for the arrest of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragist leader, on her arrival here from the United States on board the Majestic tonight.

A force of suffragettes, under the command of "Mrs. F. D. Drummond," will be on the spot ready to fight for their leader's freedom.

The Chief Constable at Plymouth confirmed the report that Mrs. Pankhurst is to be arrested. He spent the day preparing an adequate force to deal with any attempt at rescue by the militant suffragettes.

No unauthorized person will be allowed on board the ship. Mrs. Pankhurst will be taken to the hotel where she will be held until she is released. The holders of special permits will be admitted to the jetty.

The militant suffragettes have been in constant wireless communication with Mrs. Pankhurst and have advised her of their plans. They expect she will be transferred to a special police tug and taken to another port and have chartered a vessel to undertake a chase with a specially formed force, to effect her rescue.

The suffragettes leaders think it likely the police will not take Mrs. Pankhurst to London, but will lodge her at Bristol or in Aylesbury Jail, where Mrs. Florence Maybrick was kept for many years after the commutation of her death sentence.

INK SPOT CAUSES TWO
BANK OFFICIALS TO QUIT
Resignations Follow Tirade by J. J. Hill, Whose Son Had Received an Untidy Statement.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Dec. 3.—One little ink spot is reported to have caused a shake up in James J. Hill's First National Bank that yesterday resulted in the resignation of W. A. Miller, vice-president and F. A. Nienhuys, cashier.

As the story goes, L. W. Hill, a son of James J. Hill, recently received a statement of his account. A clerk in making out the statement, let a drop of ink fall on the figures. J. J. Hill, according to the report, had something he had intended saying to officials of the bank anyway, so he called a meeting of the directors and relieved his mind, talking extensively. Physician Who Is Being Tried

'GUN TOTER' CAUGHT
PROVES HE'S ONLY
VAUDEVILLE ACTOR
WITNESSES TELL OF TWO CUTS IN
DR. KNABE'S NECK

Frank Wambaugh, Aged 20, Does Some Sharpshooting for Police, Like Act on Stage.

Detective Chief Allender's "gun squad" was congratulating itself Wednesday on what was considered a splendid capture. The Chief had ordered it to bring in the "gun toters," and it had captured Frank Wambaugh, 20 years old, of 1120 North Compton avenue, who was wearing a wild Western sombrero and who was armed with a dirk knife a foot long and a heavy-calibered revolver. He was walking along Market street in the neighborhood of Fifteenth street when the squad nabbed him.

"Fine work," said Allender, and then he sent to the holdover for the prisoner who had requested an interview.

Wambaugh was meek looking when he entered the Chief's office. In response to Allender's question as to what he had to say for himself he replied that he was an actor and that the weapons found in his pockets were part of a sharpshooting outfit.

An old dead shot, Chief, said Wambaugh. "That is, on the stage. I never miss my aim. I can shoot a fly on the wing at a distance of 30 yards. That's how I earn my living. But I am not an outlaw, unless nickelodeon actors in general can be classed as such. I swear I was not carrying those weapons with malice. If you will send for my father and tell him to bring along the rest of my outfit I will give you a demonstration to prove my statements."

An hour later Wambaugh's father appeared at Police Headquarters carrying a wooden block and a stack of poker chips. With Allender, the "gun squad" and the prisoner, the elder Wambaugh went to the police gymnasium and set the block up at one end of the room. Then he stuck the dirk knife in the center of the block and placed a poker chip in a groove at either side of the upright dirk.

Young Wambaugh, in a regular stage walk, strolled to the other end of the room and loaded his revolver. Then he aimed at the dirk and fired. The bullet struck the sharp edge of the blade and was cut in half, each half falling so that it struck one of the poker chips. The chips had been cracked and when the half bullets fell upon them they broke.

As Wambaugh was bowing to his applauding audience, the Chief ordered his release.

27 ARE DEAD IN
LODGING HOUSE
FIRE IN BOSTON

Many of the 178 Guests Who Were Trapped in the Arcadia Hotel Still Are Missing—Lodgers in 4th Floor Front Locked From Fire Escapes.

Only One Who Leaps to the Pavement Survives and He Is Protected by a Mattress—Alarm Given by a Newboy.

Some Flee Over Board Laid to Nearby Roof and Others Leap Across Narrow Areas to Safety.

By Associated Press.
BOSTON, Dec. 3.—Twenty-seven men were killed in a fire which swept through the upper floors of the Arcadia Hotel, a lodging house in the South End, early today. Others are missing. Scores suffering from injuries were taken to hospitals.

Nearly all the bodies were terribly burned and mutilated, making identification impossible. The men were in poor circumstances and had gone to the place for a night's lodging.

Caught in the crowded bunks on the top floor of the five-story brick building and in the small rooms on the fourth floor, they were helpless. When they were aroused the stairways were in flames and there was a mad rush for the fire escapes at the rear. Practically none of the men obtained their clothing.

Leap to Nearby Roofs.
Many were rescued by the firemen and police. Some escaped by walking a shaky plank stretched to an adjoining building or jumping across a five-foot alley to nearby roofs.

The property loss is only $25,000. The Arcadia was at Washington and Laconia streets, the lower floors being occupied by stores.

The fire apparently started in a hallway close to the street floor. The flames swept up the wooden stairs and burned through the roof. According to William Walsh, the night clerk, there were 120 lodgers in the building when the fire was discovered by a passing newboy. After turning in an alarm he rushed into the building, awakening the men with his shouts.

The top floor was one large room filled with cots and bunks. On the fourth floor, where the loss of life was heaviest, there were 30 small rooms, like cells, with two cots in each. A hallway ran through the center. Nearly all those occupying rooms on the front of the building perished. The men in the rear rooms opening on the fire escape had locked the doors when they went to bed and those in front were unable to reach the fire escape.

One Jumps and Escapes.
When the firemen arrived, flames were shooting 30 feet in the air from the windows on the fourth and fifth floors and the fire escapes and the roof were a mass of struggling humanity. Despite shouts of assurance from police, a man jumped from the roof. Two were instantly killed. The third, who had wrapped a mattress about himself, escaped with a few bruises.

Life lines were quickly stretched by the firemen and many were rescued in this manner. Others were taken down ladders, with the flames sweeping about them. The intense heat soon drove the firemen from their ladders and made it necessary to fight the fire from the street and from the elevated railway structure in front of the building.

The fire was in the heart of a crowded tenement and lower-class hotel district. Hundreds of occupants of adjoining buildings rushed to the street when the great quantity of apparatus called out by three alarms clanged up to their doors.

Crowds Hamper Firemen.
Scores of excited foreigners crowded about the burning building and impeded the firemen in their work. A large squad of police had great difficulty in forcing back the throng.

It was nearly an hour after the firemen arrived before they were able to enter the lodging house.

RULING IN BELL PHONE RATES TO BE MADE IN 120 DAYS

State Commission Will Make Thorough Investigation of Bell Company's Books to Determine Whether 88-Cent Monthly Advance Would Be Justifiable.

FEE TO A. T. & T. DECLARED EXCESSIVE

Hearing at Jefferson City Reveals 4 1/2 Per Cent of Gross Earnings Are Paid to Parent Concern for Instruments.

The Missouri Public Service Commission has declined to put into effect the increase in telephone rates proposed by the Bell Telephone Co. and announced that a thorough investigation will be made of the southwestern telephone and telephone (Bell) Co.'s system of bookkeeping and its financial relations with the parent corporation, the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. At the end of that period the commission will announce its decision.

Immediately after the telephone company Tuesday filed with the Public Service Commission at Jefferson City its application for permission to increase rates on business telephones in St. Louis, its attorneys appeared before the commission and made a plea that the proposed increase be permitted to go into effect Jan. 1.

The commission took the view, however, that it could not afford to accept the report or recommendations of the St. Louis Public Service Commission with respect to the financial condition of the company, or the possibility that it should be granted permission to earn greater revenues. Representatives of the company offered to give bond as a guarantee that it would make proper rebate to subscribers if the commission found, on investigation, that it was not entitled to the increase.

Will Examine Books. The commission and its expert accountants will examine the books of the telephone company and ascertain how the earnings are distributed, the amount paid out in salaries, and the exact amount paid annually to the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. If the commission is not satisfied that it will be able to make a proper adjustment of rates from the information thus obtained, it will make a valuation of the physical properties of the company, and find out what it would cost to reproduce the plant.

With complete information on the subject, the commission expects to be able to pass on the company's application with fairness to the company and the public. If necessary, public hearings will be held to give persons interested in the rate problem a chance to present their arguments. The commission will take as much time as will be needed for the investigation, but will devote at least four months to it.

A. T. & T. Gets 4 1/2 Per Cent. One important fact developed at the hearing in Jefferson City Tuesday was that the local company is required to pay 4 1/2 per cent of its gross earnings to the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., the owning corporation, for license charges for the use of the telephone instruments.

The amount paid to the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. last year, in license fees, was $105,000. The commission

Our Blood

When in healthy condition is composed of those elements that HOOD'S SARAPARILLA is especially adapted to preserve, restore and supply.

It is made up largely of red and white corpuscles—red to nourish and sustain the body—white to protect the body against disease.

In weak, worn-out, pale-faced people, the blood is "watery" because the red corpuscles are deficient and the white corpuscles delinquent.

Hood's Saraparilla gradually but certainly floods the body with new, rich, red blood that invigorates the entire system, gives sparkle to the eyes and restores color to the cheeks.

It has done this for thousands. It will do the same for you.

HER DIVORCE SUIT UNDER ADVISEMENT

MRS. E. M. HODGMAN.

MRS. HODGMAN SAYS SHE PAID HER HUSBAND'S BILLS

Wife of Broker Testifies in Divorce Case, Which Is Taken Under Advisement.

Mrs. Mabel Holmes Hodgman of 408 Berlin avenue, attired in mourning for her mother, appeared in Judge Grimm's court Tuesday afternoon and gave testimony in support of her suit for divorce against Edmund Manny Hodgman, a broker. He is not resisting the suit. After hearing her and several other witnesses the court took the case under advisement.

Mrs. Hodgman said her husband made no real attempt to support her and their child, Daniel, 19 years old, and that she had to pay his club and tailor bills, as well as other debts. Once her bank account was attached because of his failure to meet an obligation, she said.

Mrs. Hodgman testified Hodgman often promised to abstain from drink, but did not keep such promises. As a result of his attitude toward her, she said, she had to go to St. Luke's Hospital for treatment for nervous trouble.

George H. Wright, a friend of Hodgman, testified he had known both for years and that Mrs. Hodgman had been a dutiful wife and mother, devoted to her home. Asked about the husband's habits, the witness answered he was convivial.

The Hodgmans were married in July, 1902, and separated recently. They have spent most of their winters in Los Angeles for several years and that they were having domestic discord was unknown to many of their friends in this city.

Mrs. Hodgman is a daughter of the late Daniel St. Holmes, a wealthy Missouri mine owner, and she lives at the home of her sister, Mrs. Edward M. Gould. Hodgman was formerly a teller in the Bank of Commerce and is a member of the Nooday, Racquet and Country club. He is a son of the late Charles Hodgman, who was a partner of Edwards Whittaker in the brokerage business. Before their separation the Hodgmans resided at 441 West Pine boulevard. Edwin W. Lee is Mrs. Hodgman's lawyer.

UGH! NOT CALOMEL, OIL OR SALTS, DELICIOUS "SYRUP OF FIGS" IS BEST.

A harmless cure for sick headache, biliousness, sour stomach, constipation, indigestion, coated tongue, salivary glands—take "California Syrup of Figs." For the cause of all such misery comes from a torpid liver and sluggish bowels.

A tablespoonful tonight means all constipation poison, waste matter, fermenting food and sour bile gently moved out of your system by morning without griping. Please don't think of "California Syrup of Figs" as a physic. Don't think you are dragging yourself or your children, because this delicious fruit laxative cannot cause injury. Even the most delicate child can take it as safely as a robust man. It is the most harmless, effective stomach, liver and bowel cleanser, regulator and tonic ever devised.

Your only difficulty may be in getting the genuine, so ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." This city has many counterfeit "fig syrups," so watch out.—ADV.

"If All Voices Were In The Same Key"

If all musical instruments and all voices were pitched in the same key, the Transposing feature of the Apollo Player Piano would be unnecessary.

But we have to deal with things as they are, not as we would like to have them, consequently the player piano which is not equipped with Melville Clark's Transposing Device is incomplete.

With the Apollo you can omit the melody and play only the accompaniment and through the use of the Transposing Device can play this accompaniment in any desired key to perfectly harmonize with other instruments or the voice.

One of the charms of owning a player piano lies in being able to accompany your friends when they want to sing or play. Do you want an instrument with which you can't do this?

The above is but one of the many features which make the Apollo lead the world in the class of music reproducing.

The Metronome Meter which records the music rolls without pedalling—the Dyna-Skyle which gives perfect control of dynamics without the use of levers—the Solo which accents the melody or any single note of it—the Direct down touch on the keys—these are a few of the fundamentals which make Apollo music human.

Just one thing left to do—come in and hear the Apollo.

The final answer to the player piano question lies in this instrument.

REPUBLICANS IN DEBATE IN SENATE URGE PRIMARY LAW

President Wilson's Plan for Direct Selection Endorsed by Bristow and Cummins.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—President Wilson's recommendation for direct primary election of presidential candidates came up in the Senate today in a debate that held the body more than an hour, during which Senators Bristow, Cummins and others expressed the hope that Democrats would follow the President in support of a reform which, they declared, Progressive Republicans long had demanded.

Senator Martin replied that the Democrats were "in entire accord with the titular head of the actual head of the Democratic Party."

Senators Bristow and Cummins retorted that the Democratic leaders should prove it by introducing bills introduced by Progressive Republicans early in the session. Senator Bristow has introduced such a bill, modeled after the Kansas law.

"I hope that under the inspiration and impulse of this admirable message, delivered to Congress by the President, you can be induced to report that bill favorably or agree on a modification of it," said he to the Democrats.

Gallagher Opposes Plan.

Senator Gallagher, the Republican leader, declared a nation-wide primary would "give the rich man an advantage over the poor man" and "make bribery easier than at present."

The announcement by President Wilson that he favors the selection of national candidates by direct primaries and that the platform be framed by what the English call party conferences, attracted much attention among members of Congress.

Senator Rusk said: "As to the President's suggestion for a presidential primary—I want time to turn it over in my mind. Heretofore I have opposed the preferential primary. To me it seems that the primary represents rather an escape from conditions now existing to which we are opposed, than a final solution. I can't help thinking that some settlement will finally be found quite other than anything now proposed, though the President's suggestion may be as good as any to begin working on."

Favors Short Ballot.

The trouble with the whole matter is that there can be no solution which does not depend on the people's taking care of their own business. In other words, no solution will work which the people do not work. The difficulty has been to get the voters to perform the duties required of them, while many of the proposed remedies suggest increasing those duties by indefinite multiplication of balloting. For myself, I am very much interested in the short ballot. The President was undoubtedly right in what he said of the necessity for unloading the treasures of Alaska."

Senator Kern of Indiana said he had always been in favor of the primary system, but he was not prepared to commit himself to the President's proposal. He suggested that the people might object to the personnel proposed by the President for the platform conventions and insist on their right to elect delegates for that specific purpose. Senator Owen of Oklahoma: "The President's suggestion for primary nomination is what I have long been fighting for. I will introduce a bill myself, if no one else does."

Senator Myers of Montana: "Of course I am for the President's suggestion favoring the presidential primary. I had never thought of the kind of convention he suggests for framing the platform, but I see no objections to it."

Senator Stone of Missouri: "I have no objections to the President's plan."

Pennsylvania Road Makes Record in "Surprise Tests."

Recent publications of journals throughout the United States, devoted to the railroad interests, show that all of the big roads of the country have adopted the "Surprise Test" system as a means of perfecting the plan of "Safety First." In following this system of "Surprise Tests" the Pennsylvania Railroad has reduced the percentage of errors and carelessness on the part of employees to almost perfection. The idea of the "Surprise Test" system is to provide for every possible emergency, so as to protect employees and the traveling public, and more especially to protect those who are unable to protect themselves.

These "Surprise Tests" are made at times when they are least expected by the employees. So thorough are the employees in accord with the system that the number of cases of carelessness or negligence reported is less than 1 per cent of the number of tests made.

IF KIDNEYS FEEL LIKE LEAD OR YOUR BACK IS ACHING, TAKE SALTS AT ONCE

We all eat too much meat, which clogs up the Kidneys, and they need a flushing, else we must suffer.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys. The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acid so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—ADV.

CITY COUNSELOR AGREED TO SUSPEND BILLBOARD LAW

Baird Admits Conference With Companies' Attorneys on Enforcing Regulations.

Jeffrey D. Howe, employed by the bill-board companies to accelerate passage of an ordinance repealing the essential of the 1906 ordinance, regulating billboards, invited friends to attend a public hearing in the Council Tuesday to hear him lay the "Big Clinch" and the Civic League and the Associated Retailers, of whom Six is one.

For half an hour, a packed gallery forgot there was a billboard fight on the program, while Howe with great show of emotion, turned the subject to big business men of the city whom he charged with "wrecking the life blood of the community."

"The men who lead the Civic League proclaim themselves the only truly righteous and good people of the city," declared Howe, "and they may as well meddle in other people's business and the Civic League is a great, big bluff. Behind it stands the 'Big Clinch,' that sucks the life blood of this community, and the Civic League always ready to go to the front for the men who are now being investigated by the United States Senate."

Six departs as Howe talks. Howe's remarks were in reply to speeches by Charles A. Six, president of the Civic League, and Roger N. Baldwin, secretary. Howe's friends explained that a break has occurred between Howe, as counsel for the Southern Traction Co., and members of the Associated Retailers, of whom Six is one.

It was learned that Howe had planned his "expose" of the "Big Clinch" in advance of the hearing and had invited friends to attend if they cared to hear a "hot" talk. While Howe was on his feet, Six left the Council chamber, having waited to hear the attack on the Civic League.

The substance of Howe's remarks on the billboard measure, introduced at his own instance and that of Building Commissioner James N. McKelvey, was that the Civic League ordinance of 1906 would absolutely abolish billboards, while the Howe or McKelvey amendments would reasonably regulate their construction and would levy a tax fully as great as that imposed by any other city of the United States.

McKelvey, replying to demands by all previous speakers that the existing law be enforced, noted that eight years of court restraint had added, said: "I cannot perform my duty until officially notified by the City Counselor that the injunction suit no longer exists. The gentlemen must remember that I went on to jail if I violated the injunction issued by the Supreme Court."

City Counselor Baird says he agreed with Attorney General and Cobbs at the time the suit was withdrawn at Washington, to advise a suspension of the existing ordinance for a reasonable time to permit the companies to amend the law, if possible. Only injunction overruled.

The only injunction against city officials, of record, is that issued by the Circuit Court of St. Louis in 1906, which was overruled by the Missouri Supreme Court in 1911. The billboard companies appealed to the United States Supreme Court on a writ of error, and after asking continuances until the present term, voluntarily withdrew the suit to avoid a decision.

McKelvey stated at the hearing that it was his understanding of the law governing his department that the City Marshal was the proper official to remove obstructions, and that he could not personally proceed to dismantle the illegal billboards. The Marshal is authorized to remove obstructions from public thoroughfares, but former Building Commissioner James A. Smith, on the advice of the Law Department, preferred to send his deputies out with axes to raise illegal billboards on building lots, following the Missouri Supreme Court decision. The appeal to the Federal Court intercepted this movement.

Leonard Reviews Movement. L. L. Leonard, an attorney who drafted the 1906 ordinance as chairman of the Civic League Committee on Billboards, reviewed the history of the movement here and abroad to minimize the billboard nuisance, and criticized McKelvey for refusing to enforce the existing law after the companies had evaded it for eight years by keeping an injunction suit in court.

Leonard said it was singular that in all foreign cities, from Buenos Aires to Berlin, they were perfectly able to cope with the billboard question and keep the signboards within bounds, while in the United States constitutional points had made it practically impossible to regulate billboards until the St. Louis ordinance was framed.

Leonard said the local bill had withstood the constitutional test and that the companies were afraid to receive the decision of the United States Supreme Court as to its validity and reasonableness. He said the billboard privileges in Berlin were more restricted than is proposed under the St. Louis law, yet the German capital received $60,000 revenue from them last year. Buenos Aires received more than $100,000 last year from that source, and St. Louis received exactly $80 in the year preceding the 1906 ordinance, and has received nothing since then.

Six Pleads for Trial of Ordinance. President Six of the Civic League urged that the existing law be given a trial before it was amended. Secretary Baldwin made the same plea, and analyzed the Howe and McKelvey bills to show that both would sanction the existing illegal boards with only trifling alterations in a few instances. Baldwin said the law of 1906, assessing a tax of $1 per lineal foot, restricted boards to a length of 50 feet, a height of 14 feet, with a four-foot space at the bottom and six feet space next to buildings, and kept all boards 14 feet behind the sidewalk line.

He said the Howe and McKelvey bills sanction double-deck boards, 34 feet high, of unlimited length, with no requirement of separation from buildings, and with only two feet open at bottom. The license fee is reduced to $1 for every 50 lineal feet in the Howe bill, and $1 for every 350 square feet in the McKelvey measure. Baldwin assured the members of the Public Improvements Committee that many other organizations were opposed to amendment of the existing ordinance, besides the Civic League. He mentioned the Fire Prevention Bureau, architects and real estate men, as among those who offered to send speakers if the committee cared to hear further arguments.

E. C. Kilpatrick, representing the architects, opposed the pending bills and declared the double-deck billboard a nuisance. Chairman William Frotschmann of the committee, held no meeting of that body after the hearing, and the members were unable to state when a report on the pending bills would be prepared.

PASSENGER ON CROWDED

Popular Bluff Man Finds Pocketbook Gone When Conductor Mentions Suspicious.

W. A. Leach of Poplar Bluff, Mo., a lumber merchant, boarded a Market car, Wednesday, at Eighteenth street, a few minutes after he had arrived at Union Station, intending to go to the Maryland Hotel. The rear platform was crowded and there was considerable jostling as he paid his fare and stood near the door. When the car reached Fifteenth street the conductor asked Leach if he had lost anything. He answered that he had not. "Better search yourself," the conductor said. "I am rather suspicious of that bunch that was doing the crowding act. Three of them got off of the car at the last corner." Leach felt in his pockets and found that his purse containing $121 and check for $5 was gone. He got off and walked back to Seventeenth street and reported his loss to a patrolman.

LOOK YEARS YOUNGER! GRAY HAIR
DARKENED BEAUTIFULLY WITH SAGE TEA

Just Comb or Brush it in—Says Sage and Sulphur Will Stop Falling Hair and Remove Dandruff.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, then left to age and carefully filtered will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggy and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss. Some druggists make their own, but it isn't nearly so nice as "Wyeth's."

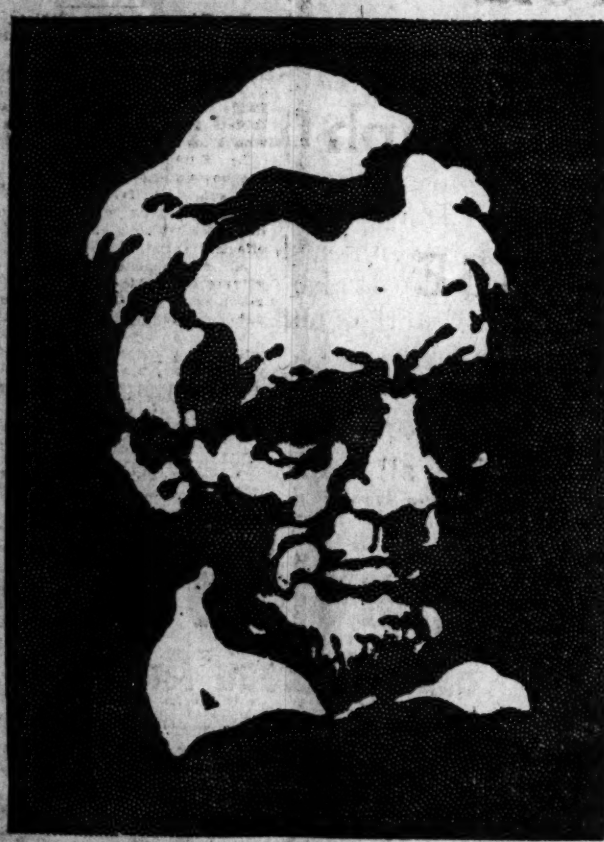

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur no one can tell, because it does it so naturally; so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Do this tonight and by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, after another application or two it will be restored to its natural color and be even more glossy, soft and luxuriant than ever. Local druggists say they are selling lots of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and it surely helps folks appear years younger.—ADV.

STANDARD CUTS
PRICE OF OIL IN FIGHT ON FOES

To Drive Pierce Corporation and Independent Dealers out of Business Said to Be Plan.

A price-cutting war, with the Standard Oil Co. the aggressor, the Pierce Oil Corporation and a score of independent dealers trying to hold their ground against their formidable competitor, is responsible for a reduction of 34 cents a gallon in the price of gasoline and 2 cents in the price of oil within the last month.

The Standard Oil Co. Tuesday announced the third cut in the price of gasoline within a month. It began the price-cutting war Nov. 4, according to local dealers, when it announced a reduction in the price of gasoline from 174 cents, and oil from 9 to 74 cents. The second cut was Nov. 11, when the price of gasoline was reduced to 144 cents and oil to 7 cents. The third cut Tuesday topped off 34-cent a gallon from the price of gasoline.

Independent dealers declared that the Standard Oil price-cutting has a twofold object: to force the local independent dealers out of the field, and to drive the independent refiners out of business. There has been no reduction in the price of crude oil during the month in which the Standard has been making the cuts in the price of the refined products, the dealers say.

Fight Against Pierce Co.
One of the principal objects of the fight, according to the view taken of it by independent dealers, is to drive the Pierce Oil Corporation, recently created from a reorganization of the Waters Pierce Oil Co., out of business. There is a bitter feeling between the heads of the Standard Oil Co. and H. Clay Pierce, principal owner of the Pierce Oil Corporation. The bitterness between Pierce and the Standard oil leaders grew out of a contest for control of the old Waters Pierce Co., of which Standard interests owned 66 per cent of the stock. C. K. Reifender, an official of the Bell Oil Co., one of the largest independent companies in St. Louis, said that the Standard's price-cutting was evidently for the purpose of driving competition from the field. He confirmed the statement of other independents that the Standard, in its war upon them, had cut the price of oil and gasoline three times within a month.

ON TAX QUESTION

Barthou Ministry Outvoted on Plan to Give Immunity to New Loan.

By Associated Press.
PARIS, Dec. 3.—The Government of Premier Barthou was defeated by a vote of 390 to 265 in the Chamber of Deputies last night on the question whether the loan of $200,000,000 should be subject to taxation or immune like the existing ones.

As soon as the vote was read, the ministers left the chamber in a body and proceeded to Elysee Palace, where they handed their resignations to President Poincare.

The ministry headed by J. Louis Barthou, after a long and vigorous defense, fell before the combined attacks of the recently reorganized radical party under ex-Premier Caillaux and the Socialists, led by Jaures. The Government by a narrow margin Monday was victorious in a trial of strength against the opposition, the new loan being approved by a vote of 391 to 270.

confidence. The opposition urged that to exempt the new loans would enable those investing exclusively in these to evade unfairly the projected income tax. Premier Barthou and M. Dumont, the Minister of Finance, made eloquent appeals to the Chamber to respect the traditional immunity of the rentes. To tax rentes, they declared, would deal a deadly blow to the financial prestige of France. Frequently the President rang his bell in a vain attempt to obtain order.

Kingler is a very able preacher and both he and his wife are very popular with his congregation. He writes the following letter to the Plant Juice man at Wolff-Wilson's:

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 25th.
To the Plant Juice Man:
Again and again I have suffered from constipation and the severe headaches resulting from it, so I thought I would try the famous Plant Juice I heard so much about, and I am not sorry I took the step for it proved to be a very wise one. The results from Plant Juice were wonderful on my stomach and my whole system; it refreshes and energizes the whole body. My dear wife noticed the freshness of my complexion and how much better I looked and was tempted to try it also, as she suffered considerably with her head resulting from a recent sickness and it had helped her a great deal. We both recommend Plant Juice gladly to the public.

REV. A. KINGLER.
4522 North 19th Street.
Ministers everywhere have found in Plant Juice just the tonic, strengthener and invigorator that they need. It tones up and revitalizes the whole system, clears the blood of all impurities, stimulates the liver into healthy action, corrects constipation and regulates the bowels, it eradicates all malaria and biliousness from the system, tones up the stomach and digestive organs and strengthens weak kidneys. If you suffer from any ailment of the stomach, liver or kidneys get a bottle from the Plant Juice Man at Wolff-Wilson's Drug Co.'s store and if it does not help you he will return your money.—ADV.

How to Darken Gray Hair

By a Specialist.
A very satisfactory preparation which darkens gray hair and acts as a corrective agent for dandruff and other diseases of the scalp can be made at small expense and in your own home by dissolving a small box of Barbo Compound in 7 ounces of water and then by adding an ounce of bay rum and a quarter ounce of glycerine. Any drug store can furnish these ingredients. This is to be applied once a week until the hair is sufficiently darkened, then every two weeks to keep the hair soft and glossy and the scalp in a healthy condition. It may be used with equal success in darkening the beard. This is a preparation that gives splendid results, both as a hair darkener and a remedy for all scalp disorders, and is well worthy of a try. You will find it far superior to the ordinary store preparations which are much less expensive.—ADV.

SOTHERN'S ROMEO, MARLOWE'S JULIET FINELY YOUTHFUL

By RIPLEY D. SAUNDERS.
It may be that the young folks of today are not as fond of Shakespeare and true sentiment as were those of the elder generation, this being the obvious charge preferred against them, but such a fact was not evident in the audience that filled the Shubert Theater to its capacity on Tuesday evening, when Sothern and Marlowe played "Romeo and Juliet" with unabashed fervor and a melting tenderness.

Gray heads and white were plentiful in the gathering, as a matter of course when a Shakespearean repertoire is the order of a theatrical engagement, yet the "tosty" power" was outbursting by brown heads and black, yellow and auburn, and the youthful faces under these junior thatches glowed with a fine appreciation of the greatest love story ever told on the world's stage. It was a comforting sight to see, giving one courage to believe that Adam's sons and Eve's daughters are not yet by any means completely surrendered to the seductive material appeal of life at the sacrifice of the ideal and more sincerely valuable things of life's living.

And it was well while for these younger folk to be moved by the splendid poetry of the play then in progress of interpretation, because the interpretation was very competent indeed and long to be remembered for its pure beauty and unextinguishable charm.

Mr. Sothern and Miss Marlowe bring to their playing of "Romeo and Juliet" an ever-normal order which is nothing less than wonderful in its seeming spontaneity, passion, so marvelously meeting the trying demands of the two little roles that comparatively little strain is placed upon the imagination of the audience, and the two immortal lovers.

The supreme test of illusion to this end is encountered in the balcony scene, as always has been inevitable, and this test was convincingly met in Tuesday night's performance. The Juliet of Miss Marlowe's realization was as genuinely love-stricken a maiden as one could wish to see. The Romeo then and there depicted by Mr. Sothern was as fervently heart-smitten at the scene's opening and as proudly and triumphantly lover-jubilant at its close as even Shakespeare's own relentless text demanded. The two sweethearts of ancient Verona, the youngest and most utterly unshorn sweethearts known in all the stories of earth's hearing, seemed fairly to rush toward one another with irresistible compulsion under love's urging.

It was a splendid encompassing of the perfect "big moment" of the play's climax, and the story of a young man and woman who, in the face of all odds, with which the Shubert Theater echoed and re-echoed testified eloquently to the audience's appreciation of the achievement. This was repeated at the termination of that other hazardous scene, the dawn-parting of the young bride and the bridegroom in Juliet's chamber—after which, woefully and inexorably, the great tragedy that was so vitally joyous a comedy until then, descended into its especial "valley of shadow of death" and never again was its earlier note of love's happy dreaming sent across the footlights.

In these final scenes of swift and overwhelming calamity, as in the play's preceding developments, the two stars acquitted themselves with genuine distinction. Miss Marlowe, however, with the greater opportunity in the "poison scene" so blackly set among the tombs of Juliet's ancestors, rising to loftier heights of tragic power. Nevertheless, the Romeo then presented by Mr. Sothern, a pitifully desperate and fate-resistant man, was masterly in conception and realization. The completed task of the two stars found each well abreast of the other in a division of the night's fairly won honors and their performance now takes its rightful place among the most memorable Shakespearean presentations known to the St. Louis stage.

Always, until the moment of Mercutio's hapless death at the hands of "bloody Tybalt," there are three stars in "Romeo and Juliet" if the play be well cast and well played. This was true on Tuesday evening, the Mercutio of the performance being Frederick Lewis, an excellent actor, who for some years now has delighted the Sothern and Marlowe following with the good art of his invariable revealing.

Mr. Lewis loves his work, as do all true artists, and he is peculiarly at his best in the role of Romeo's mellowly cynical and magnificently loyal young kinsman. The fine poetic imagery of Mercutio's "Queen Mab" speech was admirably emphasized by Mr. Lewis' delivery of the beautiful lines. The deep pitifulness and underlying pathos of what may be called Mercutio's "laughing death" were unforgettably realized. At all times Mr. Lewis' playing of the role was marked by a big truthfulness in conception and execution, and deservedly, he shared with Mr. Sothern and Miss Marlowe in the highest credit of the evening's awarding.

This Remedy Used By Three Generations

Mothers Who Took it When Children Now Giving it to Their Children.

There must be genuine merit to an article that has stood the test of two generations of users.

In the field of medicine none has had greater success, nor retained that success to a greater degree, than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is now being used by three generations of people. Its use in families is constantly becoming more general. The reason, primarily, is that it has merit. It is what it represents itself to be, a laxative-remedy; it does not make exaggerated claims nor use coarse language to set forth its virtues.

It is a medicine, but so mild and gentle a medicine that thousands of mothers give it to their infants, and yet, in a slightly larger dose, it is equally effective for grown-ups. It is for any disorder of the stomach, liver or bowels, for constipation, no matter how chronic; for dyspepsia, no matter how severe; for biliousness, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, headaches, drowsiness after eating and similar complaints arising from a clogged-up condition of the bowels. It is pleasant to the taste and does not gripe. It can be used with safety and good results by any one at any age or in any condition of health, and that person's health will improve. Every druggist sells it and the price is only 50 cents and $1 a bottle.

Twombly resigned yesterday as president of the Aeronautical Society, on account of criticism regarding the manner of conducting the aerial derby around Manhattan, Oct. 12. His successor has not yet been chosen.

WM. ROSWELL TAYLOR

Thousands of families throughout the country are never without Syrup Pepsin in the house, among them Mrs. W. A. Taylor, 717 Lincoln avenue, Beloit, Wis. She has five children and gives Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to all of them as needed. Little William used to cry half the night with cramps and pain, but since being given Syrup Pepsin he does so no longer. The use of this remedy will teach you to avoid cathartics, salts, purgatives and physics generally, as they are entirely too harsh. Syrup Pepsin cures gradually, but the cure is comfortable, safe and permanent.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington street, Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.
